CCTS Bioethics Forum is Three Weeks Away!

Register today to attend the 2022 CCTS Bioethics Forum: Translational Science and the March to Health Equality, hosted by Tuskegee University. Through panelist and audience discussion, this event will explore the most effective measures to combat or mitigate the issues of health inequity in translational research. What needs to change? What should remain the same? Where do we go from here to overcome systemic racism? This event will take place on February 18th from 11am-1pm CT via Zoom.
