CCTS Spotlight

Rebecca Reamey, PhD
Co-Director, CCTS Training Academy

"Dr. Reamey has infused her creative energy and experiences from higher education, communications, and evaluation to transform the CCTS training domain, engaging key stakeholders across the Partner Network in building a training community and culture that brings training to life through experiential learning. She is steadfast in her commitment to advancing each individual's career, promoting team science, and cultivating a cadre of translational thinkers ready to tackle the myriad challenges to health and wellness that disproportionately impact individuals, communities and populations across our Deep South region."

- Michael Mungarero, MD, MHSc, Co-Director, CCTS
