

Thank you for attending the CCTS Open House!

Now that we have connected, our team can guide you toward resources that are vital to completing your research projects and advancing your career. As part of our community, you will also receive our weekly CCTS Digest offering information about the latest clinical and translational science news, events, and funding.

Here are just a few of the opportunities available to you through the CCTS:

- Skills-building trainings, like our popular Accessing Clinical Data for Research with i2b2
- Special funding opportunities, including our CCTS Partner Network Multidisciplinary Pilot Program and Research Vouchers
- Regulatory expertise to guide you in meeting the latest federal policies, such as ClinicalTrials.gov and Good Clinical Practice \(GCP\) requirements
- Methodological expertise to ensure your grants meet NIH Rigor, Reproducibility, and Transparency \(R2T\) standards, including samples of those that have received funding available in our Grant Library
- Biomedical informatics and data analysis support
- Research nursing for clinical trials, available via our Clinical Research Unit
- Multisite study opportunities via SHARe, TriNetX, and other CCTS partnerships
- Entrepreneurial workshops based on NSF I-Corps™ Lean Startup Methodology
- Drop-in clinics and consultations with experts from our Bionutrition, Biorepository, BERD \(Biostatistics, Epidemiology, and Research Design\), and Clinical Research units
- Research training fellowships and certificate programs
- Community-based research events and programs
- A wealth of knowledge free for the watching on our CCTS YouTube channel

We look forward to working with you to accelerate clinical and translational science discoveries, reduce the burden of diseases disproportionately represented in the Deep South, and improve human health.

The CCTS is here for you. Let us know how we are doing by sending email to ccts@uab.edu.
