I-CORPS SOUTH

Designed for busy biomedical scientists and engineers, this free two-week program is for teams of 2-4 people who are interested in commercializing research. Based on the Lean Startup Method championed by the National Science Foundation's I-Corp program, it introduces basic commercialization tools. Teams must apply and be accepted to participate. Interested? Contact Molly Wasko at mwasko@uab.edu or learn more at icorpssouth.com.
