

11th Annual CCTS BIOETHICS FORUM

Hosted by Tuskegee University

Beyond the Science: Co-Creating Fundable Research with Communities for Lasting Impact

Join us for the 11th Annual CCTS Bioethics Forum as we explore the evolving role of community-led research in shaping ethical, impactful, and fundable health initiatives. This year's theme centers on how community voices, lived experiences, and trusted partnerships can transform the way we design, fund, and implement research.

Through keynotes, interactive panels, and hands-on workshops, we'll examine the tools, relationships, and structures needed to support ethical co-creation, grant success, and long-term impact. Whether you're a faculty researcher, community leader, public health professional, or grant funder, this forum offers a unique opportunity to connect and build meaningful collaborations that can drive real change.

 Thursday, Feb. 26, 2026

 8:30 AM - 3:00 PM

 Elevation Convening Center & Hotel
Montgomery, Alabama

Learn More &
Register Now:

go.uab.edu/bioethics

Forum Host:

Stephen Olufemi Sodeke, PhD, DBE

Resident Bioethicist, Center for Biomedical Research
Professor of Bioethics and Allied Health Sciences
Tuskegee University

Keynote Speaker:

Timiya S. Nolan, PhD, APRN-CNP, ANP-BC

Associate Director of Community Outreach and Engagement,
O'Neal Comprehensive Cancer Center
Associate Professor, UAB Heersink School of Medicine

Event Moderator:

Carol N. Agomo, PhD, MPH, MBA

Program Director for Community Outreach and Engagement
General Internal Medicine & Population Science
University of Alabama at Birmingham

Visit go.uab.edu/bioethics for the full speaker lineup and to register today!

Registration closes at 5 PM on February 20th

