CCTS Bioethics Forum

Hosted by Tuskegee University

Earning Trust through Community-Engaged Research: The annual CCTS Bioethics Forum brings together researchers, bioethicists, students, community members, front-line research staff, and clinical staff to discuss ethical issues in research. This year's panel of experts will discuss trust, specifically in the ways our communities and researchers come together to build strong partnerships through dialogue, community engagement and shared resources.

Tuesday, Feb. 21st from 10am-noon. Don't miss this conversation. Register here.
