

SPRINT MIND study finds lowering blood pressure can reduce dementia risk.
Geriatrics Professor Virginia Wadley Bradley, PhD, led the UAB arm of the study.

Thannickal Awarded $8.9 Million NIH Grant to Study Role of NOX Enzymes in IPF

Victor J. Thannickal, MD
Professor, Pulmonary, Allergy and
Critical Care

DOM faculty publish findings in Innovation in Aging:
Storytelling may decrease the risk of developing delirium in elderly patients.

Department of Medicine
Trainees
Published in International Journal of Cardiology

Nirav Patel, MD
Fellow, Cardiovascular Disease

Harpreet Arora, MD
PGY-1

Harrison's Principles of Internal Medicine, 20th Edition

Tinsley Harrison, MD, one of the most influential physicians of the 20th century, was creator and editor-in-chief of the first five editions of the medical textbook, published in 1950.

Hardcover to be released August 17; electronic version available now.

2018 UAB Pituitary and Thyroid Disease Conference

Saturday, August 25, 2018
Vulcan Park & Museum

8:00 am – 4:30 pm
CME credit available

Please contact Kathryn Lea at klea@uabmc.edu or 996-4004 for more information.