ROBERT C. CHAPMAN, LFACHE, a 1972 graduate of the Master of Science in Health Administration and member of Class 6, was one of 12 people inducted to the Alabama Healthcare Hall of Fame on Saturday, July 28. The 2012 class was honored not only for their work in medicine and health, but also as players in some of the most vital issues of their time.

Throughout his career, Mr. Chapman embodies the essence of a great leader from many different aspects but perhaps his greatest contribution to the field is his passion for mentoring young healthcare executives. Most notably, he served as a preceptor for 40 students in their administrative residencies.

Chapman retired as president and CEO of Medical Center East and its successor, the Eastern Health Systems, in 2007. Under his leadership, the organization grew into a private not-for-profit regional integrated health care system consisting of three hospitals; a system of ambulatory diagnostic, occupational medicine, primary care, rehabilitation and surgery centers; a family practice residency program; an independent and assisted living facility; and a long-term skilled nursing home. He began his career in 1970 when the facility was called Birmingham's East End Memorial Hospital.

Chapman held every officer position at the Alabama Hospital Association, including Chairman of the Board, and served on the Board of Directors for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Alabama and Coastal Insurance Group of Alabama. On the national level, Chapman has held leadership positions at the American Hospital Association and the American College of Healthcare Executives, where he is a Life Fellow. He received the Alabama Hospital Association's highest award, the Gold Medal of Excellence, in 1987 and its Distinguished Service Award in 2006. He also served as President of the Alumni Association of the Graduate Programs in Health Administration during 1976-77.

Chapman was an original member of the School of Health Professions Dean's Advisory Board and served for two terms. He established the Robert C. Chapman Endowed Scholarship for the MSHA program in 2003. Although he may be retired, he continues to serve as Adjunct Professor at UAB.

The Alabama Healthcare Hall of Fame was founded in 1997 to recognize exemplary service or outstanding contributions to health care. New honorees are inducted every two years.

CHUNN RECOGNIZED FOR SUPPORT OF THE MSHA PROGRAM

Vance M. Chunn (Class 19), nominated by his colleague, Andrew McDonald (Class 20), was selected as the 2012 GPHA Alumnus of the Year. Vance, who has served as the Chief Executive Officer of Cardiology Associates in Mobile, Alabama since 1995, has been a strong supporter of the MSHA Program and Department of Health Services Administrator since his graduation in 1985. Prior to joining Cardiology Associates, Mr. Chunn served as Administrator for Pulmonary Associates of Mobile and then a number of roles at Mobile Infirmary Medical Center starting as an administrative resident and culminating as a Vice President at the Infirmary. Vance has also served as a guest lecturer for the MSHA Program when HA 644: Seminar in Ambulatory Care was offered. Mr. Chunn is such a proponent of the MSHA Program and has served as a preceptor to a number of students during their administrative residency or fellowship experience including Elisha Dozier (Class 37), Ryan Beale (Class 40) and Liz Kirby (Class 43).

In addition, Vance has been a very active member of the Mobile community and the state including organizations such as American Heart Association Board of Directors, America's Junior Miss Board of Directors, Blue Cross Blue Shield MGMA Liaison Committee, Child Daycare Association Board of Directors, Medicare Physician Education and Training Advisory Committee Chairman, Mobile Area Chamber of Commerce - Board of Advisors, Mobile Jaycees, Mobile Touch-down Club - Board of Directors, Rotary Club of Mobile, United Way, and University of South Alabama -Adjunct Assistant Professor Clinical Physician Assistant Studies.

Perhaps one of Vance's greatest contributions to the field of health administration is his passion for encouraging people to consider healthcare as a career choice. Most recently, Kathleen Shearer (Class 48) expressed her thoughts, "Mr. Chunn encouraged me to pursue a career in health administration. By taking the time to teach me about the field, he ultimately inspired me to attend the UAB MSHA program. He has been a valuable resource to me, as he is always willing to give of his time in order to help me achieve."

Congratulations to Vance for being selected as the 2012 GPHA Alumnus of the Year.

BIRMINGHAM, AL: The 7th annual MSHA Classic, supported by Class 47 and the Alumni Association of the Graduate Programs in Health Administration, proved to be successful through the hard work and perseverance of the MSHA Classic officers and classmates! The 2012 golf tournament generated nearly $20,000 towards the students' professional development fund, which reimburses students for travel to meetings such as ACHE, HIMSS, MGMA, HFMA, and the National Symposium for Healthcare Executives. In addition, Class 48 donated $3,500 to the American Cancer Society's Joe Lee Griffin's Hope Lodge, a non-profit organization which strives to provide temporary lodging for patients who travel to Birmingham to receive cancer treatment.

Ballantrae Country Club served as the tournament host and provided a magnificent setting for the tournament. The MSHA Classic provides alumni, preceptors and friends of the MSHA Program a chance to get to know a number of students on a more personal basis. A number of MSHA alumni met and teamed up to help the current graduate students. We are extremely grateful to our generous sponsors and participants which included:

SCHOLARSHIPS ASSIST IN GRADUATE EDUCATION

Julie Won

Congratulations to Julie Won (Class 47) who received the nationally competitive Albert W. Dent Scholarship from the American College of Healthcare Executives. In addition, Corey Lovelace (Class 47) was selected as the recipient of the Alabama HFMA Scholarship. We are very fortunate to be able to award scholarships through the generous support of our alumni in the form of endowed scholarships, ACHE and the Alabama Chapter of HFMA. These awards enable us to recruit the best students to our MSHA Program.

A New Home for the Department of Health Services Administration

A YEAR AFTER construction crews began adding two floors and 35,000 square feet of new space to the School of Health Professions Building, the project is on schedule to welcome students for the start of the 2013-2014 school year.

The expansion will provide state-of-the-art classrooms, an Executive Learning Center for the executive master's and executive doctoral programs, much needed lab space for the Department of Physical Therapy and allow consolidation of the Department of Health Services Administration into one building on the same floor for the first time.

Fundraising efforts began last year and from just the MSHA alumni, we have raised over $1.2 million. The next phases of solicitations will include the PhD alumni, Executive Master's and Doctoral alumni as well as the rest of the Department of Health Services Administration. If you have not yet been asked to participate in the campaign, we hope you will carefully consider participating when asked this year.

"While we still have a long way to go to reach our goal, I have been gratified by the many alumni who have shown their appreciation to the health administration program through their generous giving," says Harold P. Jones, Ph.D., dean of the School of Health Professions.

A campaign website was created to allow donors the opportunity to see the efforts of the project, naming opportunities, class challenges and donation options. You can also watch the progress of the building through the school's webcam also found on the website (www.uab.edu/shpcampaign). If you would like to make a gift to the campaign or would like to help with solicitations, please contact Katie Adams at katiedav@uab.edu or 205-996-5469 for more information.

"Bringing us all together on one floor will increase the probability for a random interchange that can generate the spark for new, creative ideas."

- Gerald L. Glandon, PhD - Chair, Department of Health Services Administration

School of Health Professions Building Campaign Donors through 12/31/12

The gifts and pledge payments listed were received through December 31, 2012. Please forgive any errors or omissions.

International Travel Opportunities for HSA Alumni

April 7-11, 2013

Join the Executive MSHA students and faculty as we study the British National Health System in London, England.

Join us as we learn how healthcare is organized, financed, and delivered in the world's largest and oldest single-payer system. The educational program will include a visit to Guys' and St. Thomas' Hospital, where Florence Nightingale founded her nursing school in 1859. We will hear from leaders within both the public and private sectors of the British system and will tour a facility in London's famous Harley Street.

Cost Includes: educational program, lodging for four nights at the Royal Society of Medicine, transportation to site visits, meals Sunday evening through Thursday morning. Airfare is not included.

England: $2,250
SINGLE

(add $435 for an additional person staying in the same room)

Stay on for an optional two-day visit to Edinburgh, Scotland ($800 for single)*

April 21-25, 2013

Join the Executive DSc students and faculty as we learn about healthcare delivery in Curitiba, Brazil.

We will hear from leaders at various levels of Brazil's Sistema Único de Saude (SUS), the country's decentralized national health system. Lectures will be complemented by discussions with practitioners and visits to hospitals, primary care facilities, and state and city health departments. Plans also include a discussion of the private health insurance system in Brazil, which includes the largest healthcare cooperative in the world.

Cost Includes: educational program, lodging for four nights, transportation to site visits, meals Sunday evening through Thursday morning. Airfare and the cost of a travel visa are not included.

Brazil: $2,000

INCOMING RESIDENTIAL PHD STUDENTS

Jennifer Crimiel

JENNIFER CRIMIEL, a native of McComb, Mississippi, received her Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from Alcorn State University. During her tenure at Alcorn State University, she made a commitment to pursue a doctoral degree as a Ronald E. McNair Post baccalaureate Achievement Scholar while attending a summer research internship at the University of Mississippi and participated in various national and international research conferences. After completing an MBA and graduating from the University of Southern Mississippi, Jennifer was immersed in the world of healthcare while working for a grant-supported Federally Qualified Health Center in rural Mississippi. At the health center, she was able to learn the rules and regulations of operating a health center and the process of applying and reporting on grants, as well as work with the leadership team to meet administrative, clinical, and financial performance and accountability requirements as set forth by the federal government. Wanting to gain more knowledge and insight into an ever evolving industry, she was motivated to pursue her MPH and earned her second master's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in public health with a focus on policy and administration. While pursuing her MPH, Jennifer was given the opportunity to complete her internship requirements at Coosa Valley Medical Center where during rotations she was exposed to healthcare in a hospital setting from both the administrative and clinical perspective. Pursuing a doctoral degree at the University of Alabama at Birmingham was the most logical culmination of years of research and an avid interest in healthcare. Jennifer's research interests are numerous but mainly focus on strategic healthcare management and comparable health systems.

Tory Harper

TORY HARPER was born and raised in Alexandria, Virginia. She attended Gettysburg College and studied Political Science, Latin American Studies and Spanish. Upon graduating, she completed a Fulbright Fellowship in Buenos Aires, Argentina where she studied the financial and political behaviors of Bolivian, Peruvian and Paraguayan immigrants residing in Argentina. Upon returning to the U.S., she started working for GE Capital and completed the Financial Management Program, which enabled her to gain finance experience, while completing coursework in finance, accounting, risk management and business strategy. Much of her time at GE Capital was spent working on the Mergers and Acquisitions team for the Healthcare Financial Services platform. Tory left GE Capital to join the asset management team of the Rail division at CIT group where she built an asset profitability model and managed risk compliance for third party vendors. Upon deciding that she was interested in pursuing a PhD, she worked for the School of Health Professions on the Rural Breast Cancer Survivorship study and specifically examining the cost effectiveness of the Breast Cancer survivorship intervention under Dr. Patrick McNees, PhD and Dr. Karen Meneses, PhD. Tory's current research interests include the relationship between hospital financial well-being and quality of care. Her experience and understanding of capital structuring and healthcare financing has proved invaluable as she pursues her PhD studies and she hopes to add valuable research to the field of hospital finance and strategy. In her free time, Tory enjoys spending time with her husband and dog. She is also an avid runner and triathlete. After finishing two Ironman, Tory is taking a break from triathlons and is enjoying training for half marathons and marathons.

Dennis McCay

DENNIS MCCAY is a native of the Birmingham area, a graduate of Locust Fork High School, and a retiree of BellSouth/AT&T. After a 30 year career as a Technical Analyst and IT Project Manager, he decided to leverage his experience and Project Management training (master's Certification from George Washington University's School of Public Management) by finishing up his undergraduate and then completing a Master's degree in Business Administration at the University of Montevallo. Dennis is active in several civic and service organizations that include the Shrine and the Cherokee Tribe of Northeast Alabama (his wife Valarie who works at UAB is a member of the Tribal Council). His long term plans are to teach Business Administration and Leadership with an emphasis on the needs of 21st Century healthcare.

Alan Jones

ALAN JONES is an active duty Major in the United States Army. He received his B.A. from Mississippi State University and his M.H.A. from Baylor University. Board certified in Healthcare Management and a Fellow in the American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE), Alan has over a decade of experience in health care leadership. Over the last thirteen years, Alan has held a wide variety of positions in the Military Health System. He has served in many roles to include: a Medical Company Commander in Germany, a Deputy Chief of Managed Care in Korea, and a Medical Planner for US Forces in Afghanistan. His experience in these roles motivated him to continue his education and further his understanding of healthcare. In 2011, he was awarded an Army scholarship to pursue a doctoral degree in Health Services Research. He applied to the University of Alabama at Birmingham for its nationally recognized research and the strong reputation of its faculty. After completing his studies, Alan plans to continue to conduct research and teach as an Associate Professor for the US Army-Baylor Program for Health and Business Administration. Alan is married to the former Rebecca Wagner, a R.N., of Starkville, Mississippi. Alan and Becky have been married for twelve years. They have two boys, Steven (8) and Andrew (6), and live in Hoover, Alabama.

William Opoku-Agyeman

WILLIAM OPOKU-AGYEMAN is a Ghanaian who hails from the Ashanti Region of Ghana. Born and raised in Accra, the capital, he graduated from the Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology with a Bachelor of Science in Natural Resource Management. William holds a Master's of Science Degree in Geographic Information Science from the University of Akron, Ohio and Master's Degree in Public Health from Kent State University, also in Ohio.

William got interested in health research when he started his thesis on the spatial distribution of healthcare centers when pursuing his Geographic Information Science degree and hence his interest in Health IT and hospital quality outcome. He chose the University of Alabama at Birmingham Doctorate of Health Services Administration program because of its strong reputation in the industry and its focus on research and innovation. William also choose UAB because of the good winter weather as compared to harsh winters in the mid-west. He likes to cook and eat when he has some free time and occasionally likes to work out.

DR. TRIMM HELPS BRING THE AHEC MODEL TO ALABAMA

The University of Alabama School of Medicine has announced a five-year, $5.25 million grant from the federal Health Resources and Services Administration to create an Alabama Statewide Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) Program. J.M. "Mickey" Trimm, Ph.D., Associate Professor in the Department of Health Services Administration, provided valuable insight, guidance and context that enabled Alabama to be selected as an AHEC site.

AHECs work to enhance access to quality healthcare, particularly primary and preventive care, through focused programs in areas, both rural and underserved, that need healthcare professionals.

UAB will establish five regional offices around the state that will address the access goal by undertaking a number of initiatives to increase the number of students who enter healthcare programs and obtain healthcare jobs. Increasing the numbers of physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, dentists, therapists, and other health professionals, especially those coming from rural and underserved areas, has been shown to increase access and improve the overall health of communities.

GOALS OF THE ALABAMA AHEC

1. Develop a sustainable Alabama Statewide AHEC Program that covers all 67 counties of the state with five (5) community-based AHEC Centers.
2. Implement program services and activities that target underrepresented minority, rural, and other disadvantaged Alabama youth and adults for careers in the health professions, including public health.

3. Influence the training of health professions students/residents toward primary care and care of Alabama's medically needy populations.
4. Improve the health and quality of care provided to medically needy Alabamians through the provision of education and support for targeted healthcare providers.

PARTNERING WITH OTHER HEALTH PROVIDERS AND EDUCATORS AROUND THE STATE OF ALABAMA

The success of the Alabama Statewide AHEC Program will depend on the involvement of the many healthcare educational institutions around the state. UAB will partner with both educators and providers who employ healthcare professionals. Among those already committed to work with AHEC include:

- Alabama A&M University
- Alabama College of Osteopathic Medicine
- Auburn University
- Jefferson Davis Community College
- Quality of Life Health Centers
- Samford University
- Tuskegee University
- University of Alabama
- University of South Alabama
- Whatley Health Services, Inc.
- And more!

BENEFITS OF THE ALABAMA AHEC

For Students

The five Alabama AHEC Centers will develop a number of initiatives to help students learn and pursue healthcare careers. These activities start in middle and high schools, and continue through college and into medical school or other health professions programs.

For Hospitals

AHEC is aware that rural hospitals and medical facilities face unique challenges. To help meet these challenges, the Alabama

Statewide AHEC will offer services to help educate physicians and other health professionals about the advantages of working in community hospitals and provide training and continuing professional education for healthcare providers currently working in rural areas through the Rural Hospital Program.

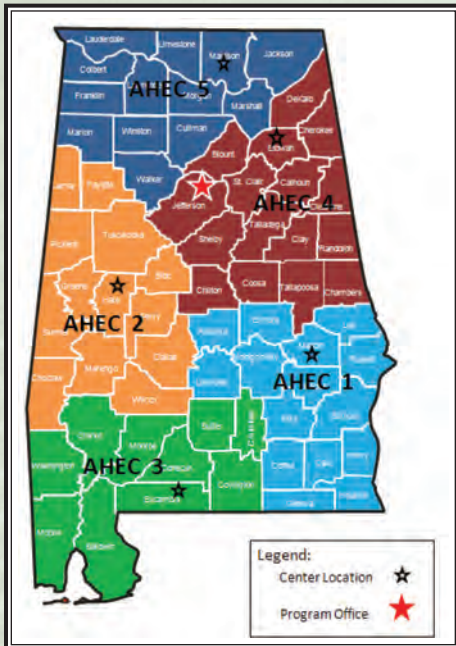

For Healthcare Professionals

The Alabama Statewide AHEC will work to help healthcare professionals in rural and underserved areas succeed. This includes making use of emerging technologies to provide education and consulting efforts, as well as helping to connect qualified providers with job opportunities across the state.

For Community Members

The backbone of the Alabama Statewide AHEC Program will be its efforts in improving community members' health. To this end, the Alabama AHEC will work to increase the number of local healthcare providers, help train and educate health care professionals already in the community and provide health education and other services to community members.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SERIES BRINGS THE “REAL WORLD” TO CAMPUS

Josh Brinkley

EACH FALL, the MSHA Program enjoys hosting speakers from diverse backgrounds who can share their experiences and expertise with MSHA students. This year there was an intentional strategy for including non-traditional aspects of the healthcare industry as well as some of the typical tracks our graduates have always pursued. We certainly appreciate these individuals’ willingness to take time away from their jobs to “give back” to our graduate students. Class 47 and Class 48 learned about the following organizations:

- Ambulatory Care and What Graduates Can Gain from Understanding the Continuum: Kirk Allen (E 39), Danielle Brown (Class 24), Greg Hulseley (Class 30), David Allen (E 33), and Lisa Warren (Class 28)
- Understanding the Urgent Care Industry and American Family Care: Lauren Walls and Tom Lazenby
- Giving Back to the MSHA Program: Thomas Steiner (Class 31)
- Emory Healthcare Fellowship Overview: Sheryl Bluestein and Min Worley
- Community Health Systems and What It Takes to Be A CEO in Healthcare: Tom Miller (Class 18)
- BCBS of Alabama (Kyle Cutright, Class 41 and Daniel Jackson, Class 40)
- Overview of Evanston Hospital/ NorthShore Health System (Chicago, IL): Gabrielle Cummings (undergraduate classmate of Tanita Hobbs, Class 35)
- Hard Work and Its Importance to Succeeding in Healthcare: Jim Decker (Class 11)
- Overview of Ascension Health and Lessons Learned So Far: Josh Brinkley (Class 37)

If you are interested in sharing your career lessons and/or expertise next fall, then contact Randa Hall (randahall@uab.edu).
